Welcome. You are not signed in.

Job Search
My Jobpage

Job Description

Requisition Title: Assistant Professor - Gender & Transnational History - 1501473

Job Field: Tenure Stream
Faculty / Division: Faculty of Arts and Science
Department: Women and Gender Studies Institute
Campus: St. George (downtown Toronto)
Job Posting: Oct 22, 2015
Job Closing: Dec 21, 2015

Description:

The Women and Gender Studies Institute (WGSI) and the Department of History, at the University of Toronto, invite applications for a tenure-stream appointment in Gender & Transnational History. This is a joint-appointment between WGSI (51%) and the Department of History (49%). The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor and will begin July 1, 2016.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in the humanities or social sciences in a relevant discipline by the date of appointment or shortly thereafter. Preference will be given to candidates with a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and research. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated by letters of reference, teaching evaluations, dossier and/or syllabi submitted as part of the application. Evidence of research excellence will be shown through research of an internationally competitive caliber, demonstrated by publications in leading journals in the relevant field, presentations at significant conferences, awards and strong endorsements by referees.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.
The position has a focus on feminist, anti- and post-colonial studies, historical method and diasporic and transnational studies. We seek a theoretically and interdisciplinary engaged historian of gender and sexuality. Geographic focus is open; we are particularly interested in scholars working on the 19th and 20th centuries, whose scholarship engages the history of gender through feminist, anti- and post-colonial studies and diasporic and transnational studies.

All qualified applicants are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. If you have any questions about this position, please contact wgsi.director@utoronto.ca. All application materials should be submitted online.

Submission guidelines can be found at: http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. We recommend combining attached documents into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters directly to WGSI via e-mail to wgsi.director@utoronto.ca by the closing date, December 21, 2015.

For more information on WGSI, please visit www.wgsi.utoronto.ca. For more information on the Department of History, please visit www.history.utoronto.ca.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Apply Online

Support Contact: academic.jobs@utoronto.ca